Re: National Master Clock Facility
Excellence in Workmanship

Dear Charlie:

It is our great pleasure to give recognition to the excellence in workmanship displayed at The National Master Clock Facility Project by your field supervisor, Charles J. Graber. He has demonstrated the level of dedication that we expect from companies that we work closely with. Mr. Graber has represented Cynergy Electric in the highest esteem by predicating the importance of remaining on schedule and completing tasks when time is critical. It is refreshing to see pride in craftsmanship and respect for the overall project goal. As a company, Whiting-Turner has built its reputation based on pride in the quality of our work and delighting our customers and thus we look for the same in the companies we work with. We are very thankful for Mr. Graber's efforts and would like to express our gratitude to you and your company. We hope that this is the type of self-accountability and excellence in workmanship that we can expect from Cynergy Electric in the future.

Very truly yours,
